

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS TRUSSED UP AND TRIMMED ON TESTS IN 'RITHMETIC, GRAMMAR AND SUCH

The senior class of the High school and the graduating commercial class were on last Friday assembled in the assembly room of the gymnasium and given an examination on all of the subjects which are studied in the grammar grades. Superintendent Christensen explained before the ordeal commenced that it was merely in the nature of an experiment to determine whether or not sufficient attention was paid to the elementary subjects in the High school, and that if the general average was very low that it reflected discredit only on the system and not on the students themselves. He also said that the test which was made at first that the examinations would affect the awarding of High school diplomas was unfounded except in the case of where the student fell far below the general average.

Altogether the amount of time which was allowed for the entire work was four hours. The spelling test came first. It consisted of fifty words. The results were fairly creditable. The arithmetic consisted of two sets, the first of which was an exercise in addition, subtraction, division, and multiplication, and the second a series of problems. The history which ended the morning was of a simple character. The work in which the most failures were recorded was during the afternoon in the grammar and geography. The grammar consisted of three papers on the various subdivisions, the last of which took up to a large degree the work covered in the first two years of the High school work. The questions follow:

CHAMBERLAIN'S FRIENDS SHOCKED BY HIS APPEARANCE ON REACHING HOME

London, June 1.—After the recent reassuring reports from Santa Raphael, France, regarding the improvement in the health of Joseph Chamberlain, his arrival in England tonight was somewhat of a shock to the friends who had gathered to meet him both here and at Dover. Quite apart from the fatigue of the journey, which he bore well, it was evident that Mr. Chamberlain was still a long way from that degree of recovery that would give hope of his resuming active political life.

Mr. Chamberlain was accompanied by his wife and son Neville. When the train arrived at the Victoria station he was seen lying back on the cushions, seemingly almost helpless. He made no effort to rise until assisted by his wife and son, and it was remarked that he made a vain attempt to raise his hat in response to a cheer from the crowd.

Mr. Chamberlain was almost carried to his carriage. He drove to his London residence. It seems that he is quite unable to walk by himself. Twitches of the facial muscles suggested that the effects of his recent seizure have not been completely shaken off. The family authorized the following statement:

"Mr. Chamberlain has returned much improved in health and none the worse for the long journey. He has not yet made any plans, but will certainly remain in London for a time."

BACK FROM SING SING.
George Burnham, Jr., Will Be Released on Bail Pending New Trial.
New York, June 1.—George Burnham, Jr., formerly vice president and general counsel for the Mutual Reserve Fund Life association, who was sentenced to two years in prison in connection with the recent insurance trials, tonight was brought back to the Tombs, where he will remain until Monday. Mr. Burnham's counsel secured an order from the supreme court today ordering his release on bail pending a retrial of his case.

The appellate division of the New York supreme court recently reversed the decision sending Burnham to Sing Sing.

FORGERY CHARGES IN INSURANCE ELECTION
New York, June 1.—The Tribune tomorrow will say:
The June grand jury next week, or the week following, will investigate the charges of forgery in the insurance election against a representative, or representatives, of the international committee, according to a semi-official announcement yesterday. At the same time the district attorney's office is considering inviting the co-operation of United States District Attorney Stimson on the alleged violation of federal statutes which provide penalties for tampering with another person's mail.
